Member of note : Sapphie Chichester

After more than a decade working for the likes of Lambart & Browne and Rosanna Bossom, Sapphie Chichester set up her own interior design studio in 2022. Her eye for detail and ability to layer different elements are skills she applies to all her projects. Sapphie's look is relaxed yet elegant, which can be seen in this Chelsea townhouse, one of her first independent projects. The dining room has antique chairs and a built-in bar cabinet lined with Dado Atelier's 'Sapo' wallpaper in the multi colourway. The designer has also been developing a collection of fabrics and accessories, to be launched later this year. sapphiechichester.com | thelist.houseandgarden.com

Artist's impression

Franquemont's latest collection takes its cue from Charleston – the Bloomsbury group's East Sussex farmhouse. This is the 'Duncan' linen mix in meadow, which is one of the new brand's 33 hand-drawn and hand-painted fabric designs. It costs £145 a metre. franquemont-london.com

Lady of the lamps

These striking 'Amara' lamps by Penny Morrison are hand-thrown and glazed by ceramicists in the Tuscan village of Montelupo Fiorentino, drawing on a rich history of ceramics in the area. Seen with '16" Diamond Geometric' silk shades, £275 each, they come in three colours and cost £385 each. pennymorrison.com

Northern lights

Created by Edward Bulmer Natural Paint in collaboration with Jessica Buckley, who was the winner of House & Garden's The List Award for Design Excellence in 2023, The Northern Light Palette comprises 12 colours: 10 existing paints and two new ones, 'Edinburgh White' and 'Edinburgh White Light'. From £48 for 1 litre water based eggshell. edwardbulmerpaint.co.uk □
